MR. BRYAN'S STRAIGHT TALK
In his speech delivered at Russellville, Ind., Mr. Bryan gave the listening House hosts some very straight talk on the race question. According to the press dispatches, the Nebraskaan dwelt with particular emphasis upon what he termed the determination of the present administration to force the race question upon the people and added:

"You never hear of the president appointing a negro postmaster in the north, but in the south, where the elevation of the black man above his white brother is particularly distasteful, there is where the colored appointment is made."

It is to be regretted that more of the democratic orators do not carry this truth home to the people of the northern states. Instead, there seems to be timidity in the heart of most northern democrats whenever the race question is mentioned, and speakers going into the campaign in the doubtful states are warned against reference to it.

What possible harm can be done by telling the truth about the responsibility of the present occupants of the white house for keeping this race question constantly agitated? Do the democratic managers at the North imagine they are going to get negro votes, no matter how silent they may be or how much they may profess political friendship with the "colored blacks?" Surely, if this is the motive inspiring their silence they are counting upon something no more substantial than moonshine.

What they ought to do is to tell the plain truth about this race agitation and show exactly where the responsibility lies. They ought to meet the republican taunt of a "solid south" by showing that one of the chief factors inspiring their silence is the motive inspiring their silence they are counting upon something no more substantial than moonshine.

JUDGE PARKER WARNS AMERICANS.

"The republican party stands for the subjugation of a defenseless foreign people. Democracy stands for freedom."

"We relieved Spain of this thorn in her flesh, the Philippines, to plunge into our own. We paid and are paying enormously for the privilege performing the operation."

"Every true American would despise a man who would not fight to the last drop of his blood for the land of his birth, the first place of his habitation. We perpetually point with pride to our love of liberty. The republican platform asserts that 50 years ago the republican party came into existence determined for other purposes to the great task of asserting the extension of human slavery. That sounds well. But it speaks of virtue of another general kind. The leaders of the republican party of that day have passed away. In their place have come very different men. We have done our duty to Cuba. We have left her to work out her own salvation; to take her place in the march of civilized nations. Shall we forbid the Philippines to hope for freedom? Shall we prevent their building up their own civilization and try to force ours upon them? Civilization is a growth, not a disguise. Our duty to the Philippines demands a promise of independence. But if it did not our own interests demand that we be relieved of the Philippines just as soon as they are reasonably prepared for self-government."

"We hold the Philippines. Have we taken the proper steps to fulfill the obligation therein assumed? Are the Philippine Islands to-day a self-supporting community? Are not their efforts toward acquiring such position embarrassed at every turn by the legislation we have forced upon them?"

"I warn the republican party that it is not an absurd proposition that an oppressed—I use term advisedly—an oppressed people should be restive."

"Continue, as we are doing, to oppress these people and one of the greatest questions this nation has ever been called upon to deal with will confront us ultimately. We must choose either within our borders the rule of our government shall continue to be the idealism of materialism, which is a sure precursor of dissolution, for no nation can endure upon a basis of materialism, however splendid."

Senator Morgan's revelation of the deal by which the speculators of France, and the grey wolves of the lobby" of Mr. Waterson calls them pocketed $500,000 in the Panama Canal deal, exposes the unprincipled transaction in all its infamy. Roosevelt overrode the congress, drew a check and four through the Constitution, defying international law, and breaking faith with the South American States that glory of building the Canal might attach to his administration. He is as unscrupulous as he is unwise. His impetuosity, fed by the unquenchable fires of his vanity, is a constant menace to the peace and welfare of the country."

AND WHY NOT?
John T. Smith is a soldier brave in the armies of the United States and attached to the hospital service at Fort Mott in the giddy state of New Jersey. From all accounts Smith did full duty in the Spanish war and got a wound in consequence. While in the hospital he was nursed by Sara Walford, a volunteer Red Cross nurse, and also nurse. Smith recovered and returned from war's alarms to duty at Fort Mott and, somehow, Sara turned up in the neighborhood not long ago and now army circles, and also colored circles, are scandalized over the fact that Smith and Sara have been married—and what is the aftermath to be?

The officers of his regiment are demanding his discharge on the ground that his marriage with a negro is prejudicial to discipline, and a scandal to the army. Singularly enough the colored residents of Salem, the town near which Fort Mott is located, are similarly indignant and have ostracized Sara while the white folks have given Smith the frigid mist.

So indignant are the officers of the regiment that a direct appeal has been made to President Roosevelt for the discharge of Smith. But Smith stands on the Roosevelt appeal and defiantly says:

"President Roosevelt died with Booker Washington, a negro. I wedded

a negro. What is the difference?"

Sure enough. What is the difference? Roosevelt pranced around and did things and came home without a scratch. Smith went into the fight and got a wound. Roosevelt came home and died with a negro. Smith came home and married a negro. As we say—what is the difference? Not a bit of difference between Roosevelt, the commander, and Smith, the private. Each sought the company and the society he liked best.

But what will Roosevelt do about it? That's easy. He will put it off until the election.—Owensboro Messenger.

THE EFFECTS OF TARIFFS.

The bulletins issued by the treasury department give the total world imports and exports at $22,328,000,000—an enormous total no doubt. But it also gives the total United States trade and commerce of the United States at $22,000,000,000. The world export and import trade is confronted by prohibitory tariff walls. There is no tariff wall between any one or more of the states making up the United States.

The wool pulp made from the spruce or the poplar of Kentucky, or of North Carolina or of Maine passes from one state to another, and not a customs officer interferes with it. But it is in the hands of a legitimate trader and to add the truth the Dingley tariff places on its importation from Norway or from Canadian forests a duty so large that not a stick comes from either country. But the wool pulp trust goes merrily on with its prices fixed to suit itself and raising the cost of the newspaper, the magazine, the school book or the novel to the public.

That is cited merely as an instance of the working of Dingleyism. It can not put a tariff on imports nor on exports between the states, but it can accomplish its purpose by putting a prohibitory tariff on the raw material and on the manufactured article, and the consumer pays the tariff tax.

Yes in the face of it all, the freedom of trade between the states of the union brings about a development that far exceeds the total of all imports and exports of all the civilized countries of the world. A tariff here and an import there; a tax on one article and a prohibitory tariff on another that the trusts may prosper at the expense of the public. And the republican party has selected as its candidate a gentleman who knows neither the constitution nor the law, when either stands in the way of his construction of duty.

It is time for the American people to think, and to continue thinking and to vote as they think it in their hearts, they appreciate the burdens placed on the consumer for the benefit of the trusts, and if they appreciated the danger threatening the very life blood of the republic.—Owensboro Messenger.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. L. H. THURMAN, of Washington county, is a candidate for Circuit Judge in the district comprising the counties of Green, Taylor, Martin and Washington, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The issues in this Campaign are well defined. There is no excuse for any intelligent voter going astray. Here are the cardinal principles of both parties. The Republicans stand committed to a policy of imperialism, which means a large army, the acquirement and retention of colonies in the Philippines, and elsewhere, and a consequent interference in the affairs of other nations, inciting jealousies and inviting dissension. The Democrats favor freedom for the Philippines; a decrease in the military establishment; peace with the world and a careful avoidance of territorial aggrandizement, which can only lead to international complications. The Republicans are unalterably committed to a Protective Tariff, which robs the many to enrich the few, and which has built up great private fortunes at the expense of the masses of the people. The Democrats believe in a tariff for revenue only, adjusted to the needs of an economical administration of public affairs. The Republicans, having fostered the Trusts which defy the law, have named as the Chairman of their Campaign Committee the very man who was sworn to enforce the statute against them. Instead of punishing these criminal destroyers of individual effort Cortelyou, President Roosevelt's own choice, is begging them for contributions to the Republican corruption fund, thus reducing black mail to a fine art. The Democrats favor the strict enforcement of the Sherman law, with whatever aid the common law can render in an honest effort to regulate these Trusts, which under the control of Morgan and Rockefeller have cornered the business and the money of the country, and will end by foreclosing a mortgage on the government itself. Republicanism means a strong centralized government, plus the personal equation, represented by the autocratic, impulsive individuality of Theodore Roosevelt, who has made a foot ball of the constitution, and has usurped every governmental function belonging to the co-ordinate branches. Democracy stands for the autonomy of the states guaranteed by the Federal Constitution, yielding obedience to the Courts and to the laws formulated by the Congress, and firm in the belief that the chief Executive is the servant and not the master of the people. The Republicans have "opened the door of honor" to the negro in the shape of Federal offices in the white communities of the South, with an occasional lunch with the President to convince the colored man and broker that his vote is all important. They have propagated the destroying germ of social equality which has entered the base minds of the negroes, increasing their insolence and encouraging their hatred of the people of the South, who refuse to give them the recognition Roosevelt granted Booker Washington. The Democrats are educating the negroes, giving them equal opportunities with their own children, and bearing every other burden which the presence of this ignorant, depraved race in the South imposes on them; but they protest against the attempt of the Republican party to incite the negroes to fresh outbreaks of crime, the logical result of their failure to secure from the Southern people the personal affiliation and comradeship which the President bestowed on the leader of their race. These are the main points of difference between the two parties. What self-respecting Democrat, no matter what past differences may have been, can refuse to vote for his party in this campaign, in the face of the record and avowals above set forth.

There is every assurance of a splendid Democratic majority in this State. The thorough work of the Campaign Committee has aroused the voters to a sense of the responsibility that rests upon them. The organization is complete in every precinct, a giant task requiring the utmost skill and patience. This effective appeal to the thousands of Precinct Chairmen and their sub-Committeemen has been supplemented by the generous advocacy of the State Press. The Democratic newspapers, realizing that this is not a hoodle campaign, have opened their columns freely to the list of speakers' appointments and to all the other information necessary to the spread of news in a National contest. They have given columns to the dissemination of Democratic doctrine, thus equipping the voters with arguments and encouraging them to individual effort. The Democratic orators have been particularly gracious. Many of them are busy professional men, but they have left their offices and, under the direction of the Speakers Bureau have traveled night and day to keep engagements in remote precincts. The result of the united effort of the rank and file, is a reunited party, eager to give proof of its devotion. We may not reach 40,000, and may have to be content with 20,000 majority, but whatever the figure may be let it be decisive. Kentucky is no longer a Republican State. That much is certain. The extent of its redemption will be known on November 9th and it will depend upon the Democratic voters to set it at such a figure that never again will the party of fraud and assassination lay claim to the State.

The Louisville Post thinks the Presidential contest is settled. A correspondent of the paper, writing from Horse Branch, Ky., makes the statement that a hen in that little village has laid an egg with "T. Rosse" on it. The writer also states that "vell" would have been added to "Rosse," but the egg was not long enough for the letters. This last information was secured from the hen, making the story perfectly reliable.

It is said that $100,000 has been sent to the Republican State Campaign Committee from the National Chairman to be used in the Kentucky election.

There will be no fight between England and Russia. The trouble has been settled.

There was no poison found in the stomach of the late Col. D. G. Colson.

GRADYVILLE

J. A. Diddle spent last Monday at Edmonton.

S. C. Neat, the well-known grocery man, was here Friday.

Mr. Wood Paxton and wife, of Bliss, visited the family of Clem Keltner last Thursday night.

Eld. Z. T. Williams was here Friday enroute for Hebron to attend co-operation meeting.

R. L. Caldwell and Prof. G. B. Yates returned from St. Louis Monday.

Dr. S. A. Taylor was in Columbia Wednesday on business.

C. H. Murrell, of Columbia, passed through here Friday enroute for Edmonton in the interest of the News.

Supt. W. D. Jones, of Columbia, was here last week visiting the school.

Judge Murrell and Geo. Flowers, Columbia, were here last Thursday on business.

Ex-Gov. J. R. Hindman, of Columbia, called to see us Tuesday on his return from visiting his brother, Charles, who presented him with the largest pumpkin that was ever grown in the section, and we feel safe in saying in Adair county. The pumpkin weighs 60 pounds and measures 6 feet in circumference and is about 4 feet in diameter. Gov. Hindman informed us that his wife was very fond of pumpkin bread and was just taking this one along for home use. We believe that he can supply all of Columbia with pumpkin and then he will have plenty left for you and your estimable lady.

Frank Dohoney and wife, Miltown, visited R. L. Caldwell and family part of last week.

R. L. Davis and wife, of Portland, was here Friday shopping.

Miss Mary Wilmore accompanied Miss Ella Dohoney home Friday evening.

Rev. W. H. C. Sandigo, of Bliss, was here Wednesday enroute for Edmonton where he performed the ceremony of the Hamilton-Davis wedding.

Miss Mollie Flowers has been confined to her room for several days with throat trouble.

J. F. Pendleton returned from Louisville last week where he sold a car-load of cattle at a good price.

Mr. Will Hunter made a business trip to Pierce last week.

Messrs. Zach Gowen and Cager Coomer, two up-to-date merchants of Basil, returned from the Louisville market last week.

Quite a number of our people attended the co-operation meeting at Hebron, Saturday and Sunday.

H. A. Walker, of Columbia, passed through here Monday on his return from Edmonton, where he bought 4 fine mules, at a fancy price.

Mr. Leonard Dohoney, who has been clerking for Grady & Hill for several months, tendered his resignation last week. Mr. Dohoney is a first-class business man and is capable of filling a position any where.

The Methodist preacher and wife, of this place, were surprised a few days ago when the good women of their church presented them, at the parsonage, with a bountiful supply of meats.

lard, flour potatoes, butter, pickles, canned fruits, cakes, &c., for which they return their sincere thanks. The kindness will long be remembered.

Mr. Robt. Gilmer, of Blairtown, Mo., spent a few days in our city last week, visiting his many friends and relatives. Mr. Gilmer looks about as young as he did 20 years ago, when we would meet him at old Union church.

Jo and Jas. Hunter returned from Bradfordville Tuesday where they had been with their brother, Ben, who is in delicate health.

Rev. Jo Nicholson preached the dedicatory sermon at the new Methodist church, near Norris school-house last Sunday.

Hon. D. C. Edwards, candidate for congress on the Republican ticket, was here Thursday enroute for Tompkinsville.

Mrs. A. A. Hoy and her son, James, accompanied by Mr. Elmer Keen and wife, passed through here the first of the week enroute for Cumberland county, where they will spend several days with relatives.

We are glad to note that Mr. W. M. Smith, one of our oldest and best citizens, who has been confined to his room for several months, is now on the stage of action again, shaking hands with his many friends.

Smith & Nell bought last Tuesday of Brockman & Baker, Amandaville, a car-load of fat hogs.

E. C. Murrell and family, of Iowa, spent a day or two here last week visiting relatives and friends.

L. M. Wilmore and wife will leave in a few days for an extended visit in the state of Missouri.

Tom Wilson, the well-known stock man of Cave City, was here last week, receiving a car-load of cattle of J. A. Diddle at 31 cents a pound.

TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. Make your household one harmonious whole, no matter how small the scale.
2. Use only what you can comfortably afford in good quality and ample quality.
3. Let your home be bright and sunny. It is not easy to be unpleasant in a cheerful room.
4. Treat your servants wisely and kindly, and it will be impossible for them to either oppose or impose.
5. Have time for everything and be never in a hurry.
6. A certain formality is necessary to save everyday life from triviality, and freedom and looseness.
7. Do not forget that "society" is the death of home life—hospitality its flower.
8. Know how to talk and how to listen, how to entertain and how to amuse.
9. Have many interests and no studies.
10. Do not forget—your home should not only be a well-conducted dormitory and boarding place, but truly a home, the center and focus of all interest, pleasure and happiness for every body connected with it.—Harper's Bazar.

HOW ANIMALS SWIM.

Almost all animals know how to swim, without having to learn it. As soon as they fall into the water, or are driven into it, they instinctively make the proper motions, and not only manage to keep afloat, but propel themselves without trouble.

Exceptions are the monkey, the camel, the giraffe, and the llama, which cannot swim without assistance. Camels and llamas have to be helped across water, and the giraffes and monkeys drown if they enter it. Now then both the latter species manage to cross waterways when they are driven to extremities, just as human beings occasionally can keep themselves afloat when water through sheer fright.

A funny, though able swimmer, is the rabbit. He submerges his body with the exception of head and tail. The latter sticks away up in the air, his hind legs make "soap ends" as he bubbles the water madly to get away. But with all his awkwardness he is a swift swimmer, and among the land animals is beaten only by the squirrel. The squirrel swims with his heavy tail sunk away down in the water, and his head held high. He cleaves the waves like a duck, and a man in a rowboat has all been do to keep abreast of the swimming squirrel.

One thing which none of the land-living animals does is dive. No matter how hard pressed a swimming deer, rabbit, squirrel, or any other purely terrestrial animal may be, it will remain above water. But the muskrat, beaver, sea bear, and otter dive immediately.

"Have you stopped to inquire what it means to widen the gulf between labor and capital? Have you stopped to inquire what it means to substitute enmity for good will between the employer and the employee? My friends, we must meet this latter question, and we must meet it in a spirit of human brotherhood. It is the laboring man to walk the streets with his head erect, feeling that he has something in this country to live for; I do not want him driven to his point of a Southern swif at the point of 60,000 hay notes."—From Bryan's Louisville speech.

No matter what the Republicans may write into their platform, or what promises of peace and conservatism they make they cannot get away from the personality of Roosevelt, the vain, the arrogant, the wilful. He is the real issue. They may pledge themselves to an orderly, economical administration of affairs, with no thoughts of imperialism and no quarter for the Trusts, but if he is re-elected he will feel licensed to conduct the Government to suit his errand faces. There is no need of Courtes or Laws with this imperious Rough Rider in the saddle. He will, doubt his party, overthrow precedent and pursue the same tactics that have during his brief term, struck terror to the hearts of peace loving citizens everywhere.

No matter whether you work in the mine, on the farm, or at a desk, whether your wages are only $1.00 a day, or as in some of the manufacturing establishments that flourish under the tar-if, you still contribute every year to the protected trusts the sum of $60, You and your fellow citizens are mulcted out of this amount annually that Morgan and Rockefeller and other disciples of "Fronted Finance" may add to their millions. A vote for Roosevelt means a vote to continue this ever increasing burden. A vote for Parker means a vote to lift it from your bowed shoulders forever.—E. Town News.

BRYAN'S PART IN CAMPAIGN.

There is no more interesting development of this campaign than what might be termed the revitalization of Mr. Bryan's popularity. For a time it seemed as if his defeat had wrested from him the right to command. Those who feared that free silver might again be made an issue were suspicious of his leadership. They were quick to accuse him of selfishness, of a desire to revenge himself, on the Eastern Democrats who had refused to support him, thus disorganizing the party and eventually bolting its nominees.

But Mr. Bryan rose above these calumnies, as he rose superior to the temptations that have seized a small politician whose mind was poisoned by defeat. He proved his right to the place he holds in the hearts of millions of his countrymen by standing on the broad platform of party loyalty, brushing aside the slanders that assailed him, forgetting the wrongs that have been heaped upon him in the hope that through his example the Democracy would once more become a united party.

His self-sacrifice will be in vain if his followers not only in Kentucky, but throughout the country, do not emulate his wise and patriotic course. The election of Parker and Davis will be a personal victory for William Jennings Bryan for without his assistance there is no possibility of defeating Roosevelt. But, win or lose, he will come out of the campaign with his old popularity, unimpaired, the untried orator and leader of his party.—E. Town News.

TALKING TREE.

Out on the farm of Will Albert, near Heath, the people of the section were yet wrought up over the "talking tree" that has been there for some time, says the Paducah News Democrat. Enormous crowds continue to congregate there almost every Sunday to hear the strange noises that emanate from the tree.

The voice can be distinctly heard and says "there are treasures buried at my roots."

A party consisting of the most reliable citizens of the country visited the tree not long since to make a thorough investigation for themselves as to the noises being heard. They listened patiently for several hours and were preparing to leave for home when a sudden crash, which had been given many times before the marvelous production of a human voice, came.

The mystery yet remains unsolved, and so great has the number of people who have gone there in the past several months that the tree is now dead, caused by the continuous tramping on the earth surrounding the tree.

The only theory that has been suggested is that a man was killed under the tree in 1865, and while many do believe in "spirits," the facts are so plain and the voice can be so distinctly heard that they cannot dispute the fact.

A family of people who lived there many years ago became so frightened from the voice that they sold their farm at a great sacrifice and went West and are now living in Texas.

TOWARD FUNERAL EXPENSES.

Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, tells of a thrifty negro, who presented himself at the ticket office of a Memphis railway station and inquired what would be the charge of transporting a corpse "to Birmingham and return." Receiving the desired information, he next inquired what would be the cost of a casket and the price of himself. The tariff schedule was quoted and the ticket agent then said: "I'd like to know what you want a round-trip rate on a corpse." The negro had no disposition to be mysterious and said: "Well, boss, it's this yere way. My wife Melinda, she's dead. She had a whole raft o' folks over in Alabama and if I invite dem to funeral dey's sure to camp on me for a month. So I'm goin' to take de body over to Birmingham so dey'll know she's dead and den I'll bring it back hyah for de funeral."

A farmer near Union City, Mich., answers his neighbors by keeping apples, pears, peaches, grapes, etc., in their natural state for several years.

He now has apples and grapes grown in 1901 which can hardly be distinguished from this year's product. He now gives out his method of preservation, which is very simple, as he merely selects well-developed fruit with stems, picks it carefully and sears the end of the stems with a light match. Then he wipes the fruit perfectly dry, places it in a piece of dry wrapping paper and lays it away in a moderately dry and cool cellar.

JEFFERSON'S RULES OF CONDUCT.

- Here are some rules made up by Thomas J. Jefferson which have seldom been seen in print.
1. Never put off to tomorrow what you can do to-day.
  2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
  3. Never spend your money before you have it.
  4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
  5. Pride costs us more than hunger and cold.
  6. We never repent of having eaten too little.

DEMOCRATS AROUSED.

If there have heretofore existed any doubts as to what Barren county Democrats will do at the election two weeks from today those doubts were entirely removed by the presence in Glasgow Saturday to hear Gov. Beckham and Hon. Asher G. Caruth of the most thoroughly aroused, strongly determined and best organized body of Democrats that have come together here in a long time. The crowd was a large one, and every Democrat had his fighting clothes on, ready and eager for the coming battle.

Reports from every section of the county brought nothing but good tidings of Democracy. Democrats from every school district have organized and are still organizing working campaign clubs to insure a full vote being polled. The clubs heretofore organized are organizing other clubs, and some precincts have as many as four, every member of which is on the alert and bustling from early morning until late at night.

The Democrats of Old Barren are aroused, and they are going to roll up a regular Frank Wolford majority two weeks from today.—Glasgow Times.

STRIPES AND SCRIPTURE.

The origin of the stripes used in the convict's garb is explained by a writer in the New Orleans Times-Democrat. He says the custom comes from the Old Dispensation. The writer adds: "For instance, in the laws and ordinances of Deuteronomy we find the following, which will give us the clue to the origin of stripes as a badge of infamy: 'If there be a controversy between men, and they come into judgment, that the judges may judge them; then they shall justify the righteous and condemn the wicked. And it shall be, if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his fault, by a certain number. Forty stripes him, and not exceed; least if he should exceed, and beat him above the with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.'"

Now, instead of inflicting stripes, we put striped clothes on the men who offend the law, or who may "come into the judgment, that the judges may judge them," as it is put in the text. Of course you could go much further back in history if you cared to trace the marks of infamy, but you would find that physical mutilation of some sort, in a majority of instances, afforded the means.

CHEAP LANDS FOR HOMESICKERS' AND COLONIES.

The country along the Cotton Belt Route in Southeast Missouri, Arkansas, Northwest Louisiana and Texas offers the greatest opportunities for Homesickers. Mild climate, good water, cheap building material, abundance of fuel, and soil that will often in a single season yield enough to pay for the ground. Land can be bought as cheap as $2.00 an acre, prime land at $4 and $6 per acre up, bottom land at $8 and $6 per acre up, improved or partly cleared land at $10 and $18 per acre up. Some fine propositions for colonies—tracts of 2,000 to 5,000 acres at $4 to $10 per acre—big money in this for a good organizer. Fruit and truck lands in the famous peach and tomato belt of East Texas at $10 to $20 per acre up. Write us for information about cheap rates, excursion dates, also literature descriptive of this great country and let us help you find a home that will cost you no more than the rent you pay every year.

MINERAL WATER.

It Has Been Recently Found on the Farm of J. C. Morrison, Taylor County.

This well is on the Campbellville and Greenburg pike, five miles from the former place and seven from the latter. The well is 88 feet deep and the water is as cold as a person would want it. It is situated on Mr. J. C. Morrison's place, who is making preparations to take a few boarders.

The following gives a full explanation:

Lexington, Ky., July 30, 14,554.—Mineral water sent by J. C. Morrison, Campbellville, Taylor county, Ky., July 18, 1904. The sample was received July 21, 1904, in pint bottle. The water smelled strongly of hydrogen sulphide and there was a deposit of sulphur in the bottle.

ANALYSIS.

The water contains 220.9 grains of solid matter to the gallon, composed mainly of chlorides and sulphates of sodium, calcium and magnesium, some calcium carbonate and traces of iron, potassium and lithium compounds and a trace of borates. The water contained also a very considerable quantity of hydrogen sulphide. Is very good saline sulphur water.

Mild climate, good water, cheap building material, abundance of fuel, and soil that will often in a single season yield enough to pay for the ground. Land can be bought as cheap as $2.00 an acre, prime land at $4 and $6 per acre up, bottom land at $8 and $6 per acre up, improved or partly cleared land at $10 and $18 per acre up. Some fine propositions for colonies—tracts of 2,000 to 5,000 acres at $4 to $10 per acre—big money in this for a good organizer. Fruit and truck lands in the famous peach and tomato belt of East Texas at $10 to $20 per acre up. Write us for information about cheap rates, excursion dates, also literature descriptive of this great country and let us help you find a home that will cost you no more than the rent you pay every year.

FOR THE LANDS SAKE,

USE BOWKER'S FERTILIZER.

Manufactured at Cincinnati, Ohio

Why use Bowker's Fertilizer? Bowker's Fertilizers are scientifically made on formulas made by men who are practical farmers, as well as scientists, who have made a special study of plants and their habits of growth. They are made of the very best materials and bought in enormous quantities, so when compounded BOWKER Fertilizers can be sold and are sold at the very lowest prices, consistent with honest methods in manufacture. Call and examine our goods and get prices. Remember these goods have been well tested in this county. For sale by
